The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday June 7. to Saturday June 9. 1711

Milan, May 27. N. S.

THE Pruſſian Troops that have been Quarter'd this Winter in the Parmeſan, are to March towards Piemont, where a Body of three thouſand Men are already aſſembled, and are encamped near Suſa. All the other Forces that are at preſent in Lombardy are likewiſe filing off towards thoſe Parts, where all the neceſſary Diſpoſitions are making for the ſpeedy opening of the Campaign. Our Letters from Spain tell us, that the Dutcheſs of Anjou continued in an ill State of Health, and had been adviſed to reſide during the Campaign at Corella, a Town in Navarre. Theſe Letters add, that it was reſolved at Saragoſſa not to open the Campaign 'till the 15th of the next Month, at which time the great Heats will not ſuffer them to undertake any thing of Importance. The Duke of Anjou's Affairs have ſuffer'd very much from ſome Conteſts between the Duke of Vendome and General Mahoni, which have been carried very high, and managed with great Animoſities; inſomuch that we are told the Duke of Vendome has threatned to quit the Service. The Miquelets continue to annoy the Spaniſh Forces, and frequently intercept their Convoys of Proviſions, by which means their Army ſuffers much for want of Neceſſaries, and their Troops grow very thin through Sickneſs and Deſertion. The Marquis de los Balbaſes, late Viceroy of Sicily, being recall'd, is preparing to go to Spain by the way of Marſeilles, and we hear the Prince of Santo-Buono is appointed to ſucceed him. We have received Letters from Barcelona of the 19th Inſtant, importing, that the Reinforcements lately ſent from Naples, are ſafely arrived there; but as yet we have had no Account of the Squadron under the Command of Sir John Norris, ſince he ſail'd the 15th from Vado. The Prince of Avellino, his Catholick Majeſty's Ambaſſador at Rome, has, in his Maſter's Name, notified to the Pope the Death of the late Emperor, and deſired his Holineſs to promote the King of Spain's Intereſt at the approaching Election.

Venice, May 25. N S. The Prince de Santo-Buono, who has reſided here in the Quality of Ambaſſador from the Duke of Anjou to this Republick, having been appointed Viceroy of Sicily by that Prince, is upon his Departure thither. The Counteſs of Borromeo is ſtill at Rome, whither the Prince of Trivulſio, Nephew to the Viceroy of Naples, is come to attend her, and has been admitted to an Audience of the Pope. Several Perſons have been lately taken up at Rome for uttering falſe Mony, and among the reſt a Spaniſh Prieſt, on whom were found a great number of Counterfeit Piſtoles. The Funeral Obſequies of the late Emperor have been obſerved with the accuſtom'd Ceremonies in all the Churches in Naples, where the Imperial Troops have taken the uſual Oaths to his Catholick Majeſty.

Hamburg, June 4. N. S. The Muſcovite Troops that have been appointed to join the Saxon Forces on the Oder, are marching that way. They write from Copenhagen, that the Daniſh Fleet will ſoon be in a Condition to put to Sea, and that the Baron de Lewendael is upon his Departure for Norway. The Swediſh Forces continue quiet in Pomerania, where they have been review'd by King Staniſlaus, and expect ſpeedily to be joined by a Reinforcement out of Schonen. A malignant Diſtemper rages at Elſenor, and deſtroys great numbers of the Inhabitants, for which reaſon timely Care has been taken to poſt Guards upon the Roads leading from it, and cut off all Communication with that Place. It is ſaid the King of Poland will be receiv'd by the Chief of the Poliſh Senators at Cracow, from whence they are to attend his Majeſty to the Interview appointed between that Prince and the Czar of Muſcovy.

Frankfort, June 7. N. S. They write from Vienna, that the Count de Wackerbarth, who ſet out the 27th for Poland, was taken ill ſuddenly on the Road, ſo that he has not been able to proſecute his Journey. The French continue very induſtrious in their Endeavours to revive, and continue the Diſturbances in Hungary, for which purpoſe they have been at a conſiderable Expence already, and are very profuſe in their Promiſes to Prince Ragotski, and the reſt, provided they will effect what is required of them; but as the Hungarians in general are weary of the War, and extreamly deſirous to enjoy the Benefits of the late Amneſty, without expoſing their Country to farther Confuſions, it is not believed that a few of their Ring-leaders will be able to anſwer the Purpoſes of the French, by renewing the War in thoſe Parts. On the contrary, our Letters from the North adviſe, that Count Berezini is going into the Service of his Czariſh Majeſty, who has promiſed to confer on him part of the Eſtate of the late General Mazeppa. Theſe Letters add, that the King of Sweden is retired into a Monaſtery within ſeven Leagues of Bender, and that no Account had hitherto been given of the Palatin of Kiovia, which inclines People to believe the former Reports of his being kill'd in the late Engagement with the Muſcovites. The French have prepared a great number of Bridges at Fort Louis, and threaten to paſs the Rhine near that Place, in order to force our Lines; but as the Army of the Empire has lately received conſiderable Reinforcements, and our Lines are in a very good Condition, it is not doubted but they will meet with many Difficulties in that Enterpriſe.

Falmouth, June 3. Yeſterday came in the St. Tareſa of and from Bilboa for London. Juſt now ſailed the Ann Packet-boat, Captain Peak Commander, with two Mails for Lisbon. Sir John Leake is riding with his Squadron about four Leagues off this Place, and has ſent the Mary Galley in hither, to wait for an Expreſs.

Whitehall, June 8. Her Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Charles Cæſar, Eſq; to be Treaſurer of the Navy.

There are two Mails due from Holland.

Notice